

John Longstreet

John Longstreet is the president & CEO of the Pennsylvania Restaurant & Lodging Association, which promotes, protects and educates the hospitality industry of Pennsylvania. Longstreet most recently was CEO of Quaker Steak & Lube, headquartered in Sharon, Pa. During his tenure the company posted record growth, expanding from fewer than 40 restaurants to 65 restaurants in 17 states and Canada.

Prior to taking the helm of Quaker Steak & Lube, he was the executive vice president of ClubCorp USA, which operates more than 160 golf and business clubs around the country. He also served as senior vice president at Bristol Hotels & Resorts, vice president of the Intercontinental Hotels Group, and two-term Mayor of Plano, Texas.